100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1819.

MR. SNOWDEN,

While as Americans we cannot but sincerely lament the riot and conflagration that lately took place in Philadelphia, all who have the least sense of justice must feel extremely indignant at the wicked attempt to cast the odium of that unfortunate affair on the IRISH, who had no more to do with it than the cabinet at Washington.

The mistatement appeared in several papers, as well as the United States Gazette, whose respectable editor has since made some atonement by stating the truth.

He says, "we gave the information as we had received it, that a principal part of the mob were Irishmen. We do not now believe it." He further adds, "and we are told too, that the mayor mentioned yesterday morning, that he could not find that there were any IRISHMEN among the rioters."

After this evidence, and others equally conclusive, I should suppose that every independent editor could not show more respect for himself and his press, than to make the truth known, and refute the foul slander in the same papers in which it appeared.

A NATIVE AMERICAN.

Samuel H. Smith, esq. was on Saturday last elected President of the Bank of Washington, vice Daniel Carroll, of Duddington, esq. resigned.

The stock of the Bank of the United States still continue to remount in the market; has lately sold at 99 in New-York, and is held at 99 in Philadelphia.

Providence, Sept. 10

A slight shock of an earthquake was felt in our vicinity on Monday morning last, about 2 o'clock. It was also felt in Newport and the neighboring towns.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 7.

The neighboring country is alarmingly unhealthy; the dysentery, in all its varieties, is prevailing with unexampled mortality; in many families every individual is confined. We confidently believe that in a given number of people, this dreadful disease has been as fatal this year as ever the yellow fever was in Philadelphia. In certain districts death has paid a visit to almost every family. Pittsburgh has not been uncommonly unhealthy; the same disease has prevailed here, but by no means to the same comparative extent, nor with the same malignity. This fact confirms a position, which is the fruit of many years of observation, viz. that Pittsburgh is always more healthy than the country. We have generally imputed this to the quantity of coal burnt in our city, which keeps our atmosphere constantly impregnated with sulphur. Are we right? [Gazette.

OFFICIAL REGULATIONS

Respecting passengers on board merchant vessels.

Treasury Chambers, 4th June, 1810.

The American Chamber of Commerce at Liverpool, having applied to the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, that the American ships now at Liverpool, may be allowed to carry out one passenger for every five tons burthen of the ship, and that the number of passengers may not be restricted to one for every five tons remaining unladen, as directed under a late construction of the acts of parliament to that effect, communicated to you in the letter of this Board of 6th May last; and my lords having had under their consideration the act of 43d Geo. 3. chap. 6, observe that in the first section thereof, it is provided that no British ship shall be allowed to carry more than one passenger for every two tons of that part of the ship remaining unladen, including the crew; and that the 11th section of the act provides, that masters of foreign vessels shall not have on board more than one person for every five tons burthen, including the crew.

As this clause refers to the whole burthen or tonnage of the ship, and not to the part unladen, my lords are of opinion, that the number of passengers to be carried by foreign ships should be regulated, as they understand to have been the practice hitherto, by the number of tons, and not with reference to the tonnage of the wares and goods with which the ship may be laden; and that if the whole number of passengers, including the crew, do not exceed one per five tons, that the same may be lawfully conveyed under the conditions of the act 43d Geo. 3, cap. 56, in foreign ships, and under the conditions of the 56th Geo. 3, cap. 114. in British ships also.

STEAM BALLOONS.

Edmund C. Genet, in reply to some strictures by a "Country Curate," upon his philosophical speculations upon the spots of the sun, comets, &c. concludes a long letter thus—

"Astronomy and cosmology would derive immense advantages from the improvement of the art of ærostation, by enabling the professors of science to raise themselves at a great elevation, and to ascertain with the aid of the best instruments, many facts upon which we have nothing but conjecture and theories. Impressed with the great utility of that object, I communicated, in the year 1782, to the academy of sciences of Paris, to which I belong, my views on the means of directing those ærial vessels by the application of steam, calculated at once to raise and to propel ærostates constructed upon a new plan. The academy appointed a committee who approved my theory, but claimed an experiment. I was sent the same year as secretary of the French legation to London, and with a view to accomplish the wishes of the academy, I submitted my plan to the great and justly celebrated mechanicians, Watt & Bolton, of Birmingham, to whom all the arts assisted by the power of steam, are so much indebted. They considered my ideas practicable, but the expense frightened me, and I never have thought since of steering and raising balloons by steam, until in a conversation with Mr. R. Fulton, I found him disposed to investigate the subject, which I believe he would have undertaken, had not death deprived America of the radiancy of his genius.

I am now inclined to form a company to carry my plan into effect, and to make the steam navigation in the air as easy and agreeable as it now is on water. If I succeed, the birth of chaplain, on board of the first steam æronat, shall certainly be reserved for the Country Curate, who will have the most delightful opportunity of calculating the forces of bodies and substances flying off in tangents, elipses, parabolas, and even hyperboles.

E. C. GENET."

From the Baltimore Morn. Chron. Sept. 13

The late arrival has furnished us with intelligence from England, by no means destitute of interest. The spirit of reform as it has been denominated, has proceeded to blood and assassination already. It may be said indeed, but one solitary murder has yet been committed, but still this one marks the character of those reformers. Incendiary hand-bills have been disseminated amongst the populace, recommending such sanguinary measures—meetings are still held and the same intemperance is adopted as heretofore, evidently shewing a preconcerted design, to proceed in their project of reform, to the most desperate and alarming lengths. The great number of manufactorers destitute of employment, all of whom are told that the government is the cause of all their privations & miseries, may easily be wrought up by popular harrangues to deeds of bloodshed and murder. The reformers make no secret of their real designs; they boldly, in the face of the civil and military authorities, avow their real objects. It ought to afford some consolation to us, and it should teach us to to bear our own misfortunes with dignity, that so much more real distress is existing elsewhere. We hear of no popular risings in the country; no threats; no attempts at assassination. Our evils we trust are of a temporary character, and with an humble reliance on the blessings of Divine Providence, let us bear them with fortitude and resignation.—That there has been some commotions in Spain, is evident from an extract of a letter, dated Cadiz, July 24th, which we republish from the Philadelphia Gazette. The account given of the popular commotion is couched in such general terms, as to leave nothing, but a vague and indistinct impression upon the memory.—It likewise mentions, that Gen. O'Donnell, was at the head of the insurrection and betrayed his confederates. By the concluding paragraph of the letter it appears, that this insurrection had been put down, and that upwards of two hundred officers were under arrest. It has all along been represented, that much disaffection existed amongst all the troops assembled at Cadiz, which were designed to be sent to South America. In proportion as the time draws near for embarkation, this spirit of mutiny and revolt, assumes a more threatening and dangerous character. What bearing this will have eventually on the far famed expedition, how long it will tend to procrastinate that event, time alone is capable of unfolding. Private letters from Cadiz, have spoken with much confidence on this subject, and stated that the troops never would embark from Cadiz, on an expedition against the Patriots of South America. Amongst the latest accounts, it appears that the treaty for the cession of the Floridas, had not been ratified by his Spanish majesty, and a very prevailing opinion was entertained, that it would never be ratified. In truth every thing with regard to Spain, appears so confused and so unsettled, that no general points of policy are presented, for even conjecture to grasp at. In all other governments, something like system may be discovered, and a probable conclusion may be formed on a result of such policy; but in Spain there is nothing but darkness and confusion; nothing on which conjecture can attach—there appears to be intrinsic revolt—troops destined to quell the revolters, revolting themselves—ministers revolting from their sovereign, and a sovereign distrustful of his ministers, and a people jealous and distrustful, both of one and of the other. Under such hopeful auspices, the expedition destined to quell insurrection abroad is procrastinated from day to day, lest they should join heart and hand with those whom they are sent to subdue, and thus furnish the Spanish ministry with two insurrections to repress, instead of one.

Confederated Europe looks with astonishment at the action, and counteraction of this system of strange uncertain and omnious policy, unknowing in such a perturbed state of things, whether to assist the people against the sovereign, or the sovereign against the people. Anxious to preserve, what they call legitimate authority over all Europe, they become so much disgusted with the Spanish exercise of it, that they suffer the crown to totter on the brows of that monarch, without making a solitary effort to preserve it in its fall.

Paris, July 25.

On Wednesday, the 28th of July, in the garden Ruggieri, an experiment will be made of the direction in the air of acrostats, by a piece of mechanism, having 8 wings and 8 rudders. It is said to be as active as a bird in the air.

A letter which Kotzebue had written to his mother, contains the following description of the object of his mission in Germany:—

'The emperor of Russia had directed me to give a monthly account of all new ideas on politics, finance, war, public instruction, &c. which may be published in France or Germany. Extracts of my reports are addressed to the ministers whom they respectively concern. This occupation is not only in perfect harmony with my inclinations, but it may be productive of the greatest advantage to the Russian empire. How many advantageous and useful facts may be conveyed to the emperor and his ministers, which, were it not for my reports, would never reach him."

It is evident from the news we receive from different parts of Germany, that there exists in that country a number of daring conspirators, whose plan is to introduce disorder and anarchy. The plots against the public safety are not, however, confined to professors and students. The same criminal enterprises are projected by men of various professions and conditions. The arrests which have taken place at Berlin, Magdeburg, Jena, and Heidelberg, are calculated to excite the most serious reflections. The interest which some infamous journals have endeavored to attach to the assassin of Kotzebue; the attempt lately made at Schwalbach; the calumnies against the most respectable persons of Germany; the small number of writers devoted to the cause of princes and the conservative principles of social order—are circumstances which ought to excite the particular attention of the sovereigns of Germany. Incendiary writings and poinards were found upon the persons lately arrested at Magdeburg.

Rochdale, July 26.

The procession began to move about 2 o'clock, and was headed by at least 5,000 female Reformists, and followed by about 30,000 men, bearing but too sad an evidence of the distress of the times, but without so terrible in their appearance as to make the boldest tremble.—Only figure to yourself 5000 desperate women, with six times that number of the other sex, whose situation could not, perhaps by any chance, be made much worse, assembled in one mass with not above 100 military for the defence of the loyal & peaceable inhabitants, or to repress any tumult that might be expected to occur. I hardly need inform you that all the shops were closed, and business of every kind entirely at a stand. The cap of liberty was carried in front, with other banners bearing inscriptions: on one was "Destruction to all Legitimate Governments;" on another, "Annual Parliaments, &c. or death to those in authority who oppose their auoption;" on a third, "The memory of Paine, Arandreth, &c.;" on a fourth, "Success to Female Societies."

Some trifling insult, or some pretended one, being offered by a drunken fellow, who had been bawling out "Church and King for ever—Confusion to all Reformers!" caused such a scene of terror, and I may add, mischief, as never before occurred in this place. What windows were left exposed were shattered in an instant, particularly those which were graced by females of respectability; insults of the grossest description were offered to the latter by those of their own sex who were in the mob; and nothing but the appearance of the few military we had could have prevented the most alarming consequences.—Thanks, however, to the judicious arrangements of our town magistrates, Major Berwick and Capt. Ouseley, and to their presence upon the spot, the threatened danger was avoided. The red cap of liberty was torn down in an instant, and all the other flags followed as if a sudden paralysis had seized the standard bearers;—the mob filed off in every direction, and, as was thought, not re-assemble. But the minds of these misguided men and women were too thoroughly imbrued with sedition, conspiracy, and rebellion to be driven off the field with so little ceremony. They assembled again at the place originally fixed for the meeting, viz. Cronkayshaw Moor, about a mile from Rochdale. Parson Harrison was the prominent character on the occasion. The Old Marjor's bill was to be proposed as a rallying point, and to be their answer, if asked what they wanted.

The post leaves at five, and prevents me from giving you the finale of this day's business.

Extract of a letter, dated

Liverpool, 31st July.

The import of Cotton into the kingdom from the 1st Jan. to the 24th July, was—

From the U. States & N. Orleans	167,599
Brazil	68,579
West Indies	22,872
East Indies	140,255
	399,305

The stock of Cotton in the kingdom on the 1st instant, was computed to be—

Sea Island	7,300
Uplands	55,450
New Orleans	20,103
Brazils	39,751
West India	22,225
East India	259,998
	404,827
The stock July 1, 1818, was	248,800

Shewing an increase of 156,027 bags.—but this increase is almost entirely in East India Cotton.

Since the 1st inst. about 30,000 bags have been imported into the kingdom, and about the same quantity has been consumed; consequently the stock in the kingdom remains about the same as on the 1st inst. viz.—404,000 bags, but of this 8000 have been purchased by speculators during the present month.

The consumption of Cotton this year, we believe, has been greater than heretofore, and particularly of American cottons, owing in a great measure to the low prices of these descriptions having induced the manufacturers to make use of them in preference to East India cottons. This circumstance will tend to maintain the demand for Uplands, Orleans and Tennessees, and the low prices at which the manufactured article is now to be had, is likewise in favor of the present extended consumption, and probably may produce a further increase. It ought to be considered, however, that the very heavy stock of East India cotton will operate as some check upon any great advance in prices.

From the beginning of the year the market continued depressed, and prices weekly declined until the end of last month, when confidence became in some measure restored, a demand for exportation took place, speculators appeared in the market, and prices have since been gradually advancing.

This week the demand has been extensive, and sales have been made at an improvement of ¼d per lb. upon the prices of last week.—We consider the improvement from the lowest point to be as follows:—inferior qualities about ¼d only; middling do. ½d a 1d; good do. about 1d a 1¼d.; fine do. about 2d per lb.

The rainy and uncertain weather which we lately experienced, had the effect of producing a speculative demand for wheat and flour, and prices advanced a little—but the fine weather we have had for a week past, has checked the demand, and prices are again receding.—The average prices of wheat for the last two weeks (being two of the six which decide the opening of the ports) are only 73s and 74s 10d per quarter—from which it appears almost certain the ports will continue shut for the next three months after the 15th of August; but whether they will open subsequent to the expiration of that period is a question that depends upon the result of the approaching harvest. The crops at present look uncommonly well, and there certainly is every appearance of a productive harvest. Already it has commenced in the south, and if the present favorable weather should continue for a fortnight, considerable progress will have been made in the southern counties.

The stock of Tobacco here is about 6400 hhds. During the whole of the year this article has been very heavy on the market, and prices have been gradually declining; but we are now inclined to think they are about their lowest point, & though we do not look forward to any material improvement, yet we are of opinion they will command a readier sale than they have done, particularly the finer qualities.

The stock of Carolina Rice here is very moderate, and the demand is steady. By the late act there is a reduction in the duty of 5s per cwt.

Of Ashes the stock is pretty heavy, and the demand is not brisk, but as the prices are moderate we do not anticipate any material reduction.

The import of Turpentine this year is 2000 bbls. less, and of Tar 10,000 bbls. less than the import up to the same period last year. The present prices of Turpentine are about 4s per cwt. less than at that time, and those of Tar are nearly the same. Both meet a ready sale at our quotations.

A very large quantity of Quercitron bark was purchased some time ago on speculation, which still continues in the hands of the buyers; and thus a heavy stock remaining for consumption, the article is generally dull, and none but the fine qualities are saleable.

An act was passed the 2d inst. consolidating the duties on the importation of goods. The alteration is of little importance, excepting a reduction of 5s per cwt. in the duty on Rice, and, that in place of 1d. per lb. on cotton, the duty after the 5th Jan. next will be six per ct. ad valorem.

We are respectfully,
Your most obed't serv'ts,
HUGHES, DUNCAN & CO.

THE SIGHTS I HAVE SEEN.

The following condensed chronology of events may be taken as a nut-shell argument in proof of an affirmation, which tho' few might dispute, is still open to controversy by the captious sophist. We owe it to the pen of the Rev. Mr. Dutens, a gentleman well known as a literary and diplomatic character. It is taken from a sketch lately published, called "The sights I have seen;" and contains a more comprehensive view of the leading events of modern times than we have seen. As such, we offer it to our readers:

"I have seen a king imprisoned by his son; 5 emperors massacred, 5 kings assassinated, 6 kings deposed, 5 republics annihilated, and a great kingdom effaced from the map of Europe. I have seen England lose in eight years half North America, after possessing it for more than a century. I have seen her, verifying the sentiments of an ancient, (that the empire of the seas gives that of the land) take the Cape of Good Hope and the Island of Ceylon from the Dutch; Malta, Egypt, and several colonies from the French. I have seen her dictate the law to the king of Denmark at Copenhagen, and carry her victorious arms into the most remote parts of the world. I have seen this same England, in 1780, resist the combined efforts of Europe, of America and the northern powers, who formed an armed neutrality against her maritime dominion. I have seen her in the revolutionary war, often destitute of allies and alone opposing the enormous power of France, of Italy, of Denmark, and of Russia. I have seen the son of an Englishman go out to India, as writer to a mercantile company; but quitting this service, when very young, to embrace the military life, afterwards rising to the head of an army, dethrone a most powerful prince in the east, place another on his throne, conquer a part of Hindostan, and raise the British dominion in that quarter to the pre-eminence which it now enjoys.

I have seen, what has no example in history, a little Corsican gentleman conquer Italy; force the emperor of Germany to make a disgraceful peace; take Malta in two days; Egypt in a month; return from thence and place himself on the throne of the Bourbons; and all in less than four years, from May, 1795, to Nov. 1799. I have seen him transport his army and artillery, in the midst of winter, over the most difficult pass of the Alps, and in a single battle, decide at once the fate of Germany and of Italy. I have seen this same Corsican gentleman order the Pope to Paris, in 1804, to crown him emperor of the French, and afterwards depose the same Pope, and deprive him of the temporal possessions which his ancestors had enjoyed for more than a thousand years.

I have seen him declare himself king of Italy. I have seen him braving a formidable league which was directed against him, march to Vienna and even into Hungary, in six weeks; give the law three times to the Emperor of Germany, compel him to abdicate the imperial crown of the Cæsars; deprive him of part of his dominions; force the Emperor of Russia twice to retire; and soon after oblige him to march to his assistance against the Emperor of Austria—I have seen him destroy the power of the king of Prussia in fifteen days, and strike all Europe with dismay. I have seen him dethrone five kings, and create eight others; annex Holland to France; dictate to Spain as if it were one of his provinces; employ her forces as his own, and at last take possession of the whole kingdom. I have seen him pronounce a divorce between him self and his own wife, whom he had previously at his own coronation, declared to be empress of France, and the partner of his throne. In short, I have seen him extend his dominions further than those of Charlemagne, and find nothing that could resist his ambition, but the king of Great Britain sometimes with the troops of the continent in his pay."

Such are some of the strange sights which Mr. Dutens has seen, and the most striking of which those who are much younger than he is have beheld with equal consternation and surprise.

Thirty new cases of fever were reported to the Board of Health for the 24 hours ending Tuesday morning. No abatement of the disease can be expected as long as the infected parts of the Point retain their inhabitants. [American.

NEW-YORK BOARD OF HEALTH,
September, 12.

The resident Physician reports three new cases of malignant fever. John Sagerson, No. 86 Front-street, reported on the 9th inst, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

By order of the Board,
J. MORTON, Secretary.

Washington, September, 15.

It was incidentally mentioned in this paper, a day or two ago, that Mr. Forsyth, our Minister in Spain, was expected soon to return. This suggestion has been regarded by some as an indication of an expected rupture with Spain; and by those, who are never so much pleased as when they find any thing to carp at, has been spoken of as an instance of extravagant expenditure on a foreign mission of two short duration. There is no room, when the fact is understood, for either of these inferences. The truth is, Mr. Forsyth departed hence for Spain some months sooner than, at the time of his appointment, he had reason to expect in consequence of the formation of the Treaty, which he bore to Spain. So short notice being given, it was not in his power to take his family with him. It was understood, at the time of his departure, that he was to return to the United States for that purpose, so soon as the fate of the Treaty should be known. [Nat. Intelligencer.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

The ship Meteor, Glover, arrived at Boston on Friday from Liverpool, which port she left on the 10th ult. A Liverpool paper of the 5th and a price current of the 7th are received in town. The cotton market, as will be seen, continues brisk, and the price had farther advanced.—British 3 per cent consols, August 3d, 71 1-8.

Liverpool, August 7.

The demand for cotton this week has again been very great, and a further improvement in prices has taken place in most descriptions. Boweds and Orleans have, in many instances, obtained an advance of ⅛d a ¼d per lb.; the latter description is getting rather scarce. Bengals and Surats have improved in proportion. A good deal of the business transacted has been on speculation, and the sales altogether exceed 13,000 bags. We quote Georgia boweds 1s o¼d a 1s 2½d; New Orleans, 1s 1d a 1s 3d; Tennessee, 11½d a 12½d; Sea Island, 1s 2d a 3s. There has been a good demand for Tobacco, particularly for Kentucky Stems, and the trade as well as speculators have purchased freely of this description at an advance of ¾d per lb. and about 30 hhds. of Kentucky leaf, of ordinary to fair quality, have been taken for shipment at 3 a 3½d per lb.

Sales of ashes this week have been limimited—some small parcels of Montreal pots have been sold at 36 a 37s. being an improvement of 1s.; and 60 bbls. New-York, in bond, for export at 28s. No alteration in pearls. Turpentine continues steady—500 bbls. good quality, have been disposed of at 12s. 9d. Tar is rather lower, and the import from the Baltic has been heavy. Bark, New-York, 14 a 16s.—Rice, new, in bond, 21 a 22s. 6d. Flour, sweet, 38 a 39s; sour, do. 32 a 34s.

He assures those who may feel inclined to commit the important trust of the education of their children to him, that nothing on his part shall be wanting to give satisfaction. Upon his new and judicious plan of instruction, boys of ordinary capacity may go through a regular course of arithmetic, English Grammar and Geography in six months, and at the same time pay every necessary attention to their exercises in Reading and Writing.

He possesses the most substantial testimonials of character and capability, which he will feel happy to produce to any gentleman who may call upon him.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior Court of Chancery for the district of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell, at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 18th day of November next, lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg. The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Sommers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

4000 Acres of Land,

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publication will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price; as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26

For Sale,

TWO tracts of valuable land in Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland opposite Nanjemoy Reach—one of these tracts of land is bounded on one side by the Potomac, has a valuable fishery, and contains about 360 acres of bottom, with a quantity of wood that ought to be cut.—The other is about three-fourths of a mile from the river, from one half to two thirds covered with wood and valuable white-oak timber, and contains about 700 acres. Both tracts have an orchard of choice fruit. The above land will be sold at Charles County Court, on THURSDAY in the third week of August next at Public sale, if not sold before, at private sale.—The terms will be made known at the sale. Timber or wood may be purchased any time previous to the sale
